

Current ACS Objects compared to proposed ACS Objects

Current ACS Objects	Proposed ACS Objects
1 Principal Object To promote the development of Australian information and communications technology resources. 2 Secondary Objects 2.1 To advance professional excellence in information and communications technology. 2.2 To further the study, science and application of information and communications technology. 2.3 To promote, develop and monitor competence in the practice of information and communications technology by persons and organizations. 2.4 To define and promote the maintenance of standards of knowledge of information and communications technology for members. 2.5 To promote the formulation of effective policies on information and communications technology and related matters. 2.6 To extend the knowledge and understanding of information and communications technology in the community. 2.7 To maintain and promote the observance of a code of ethics for members of the Society.	The principal object of the Company is to promote the development of Australian information and communications technology resources so as to be beneficial to the Australian community. The secondary objects of the Company are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • to advance professional excellence in information and communications technology; • to advance education, in particular to further the study, science and application of information and communications technology; • to promote, develop and monitor competence in the practice of information and communications technology by persons and organisations; • to define and promote the maintenance of standards of knowledge of information and communications technology for members; • to promote the formulation of effective policies on information and communications technology and related matters; • to extend the knowledge and understanding of information and communications technology in the community; and • to maintain and promote the observance of a code of ethics by Members of the Company.